

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JULY 25, 1884.

GOV. ST. JOHN NOMINATED. THE PROUISITION PARTY'S CANDIDATE

FOR THE PRESIDENCY. William Daniel, the " Little Glant of Maryland," Nominated for Vice-President-Both Nominations Made Unantmens and by Ac-clamation Amid Much Enthusiasm.

PITTSBURGH, July 24.—Chairman Dickie's gavel came down with a decisive whack promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. Many of the men delegates sat in their shirt seeves, and a thousand fans fluttered in the sultry air. On motion of Mr. Freeman of New York the Convention was asked to send a congratulatory despatch to the Prohibition Convention as-sembled in Indianapolis. A delegate suggested that there were two Conventions, and care should be taken to send the despatch to the right one. Then the Convention decided to send a despatch to both Conventions.

Mr. Mosher of Indiana called the attention of the Convention to the fact that the Federal Government had taken great interest in the Convention by sending two members of the W. Dudley, Commissioner of Pensions, and Hiram Price, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, He said those gentlemen would find that the Convention could not be bought even to go home. This sentiment was greeted with cheers, and followed by several motions and resolutions, looking to the rebuke of the Government officials for their meddling with the Convention by giving officious advice to delgates. The opinion was freely expressed that the Convention could take care of itself with-out interference by the Federal Government. It was remarked that the Commissioners had violated civil service rules in leaving their posts to logroil about this Convention. Resolutions on the subject were referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

As the Committee on Platform was not ready to report, the Convention decided to call the roll of States and hear the nomina-tions of candidates. Col. George Babcock of ornin led off with a stirring advocacy of Dr. R. H. McDonald of that State. He denounced as a malevolent slander the charge that Dr. McDonald had made a fortune by selling an alcoholic beverage in the shape of a patent vinegar bitters. He pointed to the fact that Dr. McDonald had sent out a million dolthat Dr. McDonald had sent out a million dollars' worth of temperance literature, putting a tract around every bottle. He held up for the inspection of the Convention specimens of the trao's, containing pictures of the alcohol demon and of the wretched homes of dram drinkers. Col. Babcock desided that Dr. McDonald had sold a drop of alcohol, and said his bitters were a medicine, and not a beverage. He pointed to the fact that Dr. McDonald got 5,732 votes for Governor of California; that he is not a politician, or an office seeker, but a cheerful and generous giver to the cause, who does not seek the nomination, but who, if nominated, will contribute cheerfully and work enthusiastically for the ticket.

tion, but who, if nominated, will contribute cheerfully and work enthusiastically for the ticket.

When Illinois was called the Hon. George C. Christian spoke in carnest advocacy of the nomination of Gov. John P. St. John of Kansas. He made a point at the start by saying that he presented a candidate who needs no defence; who is known in every household, and whose record commends him to the prohibition sentiment of the country; who is able to go on the niatform and teach the people the truths of the party; who had seen war on the plains of the West; who is the father of actual practical prohibition; a man who had a barrel, but the contents had run out helping others, and sithough he could not contribute much to the exmpaign fund, he could do much to help it with volce and example.

Miss Frances E. Williard followed with thrilling words for St. John, whose career from a poor boy to the Governorship of Kansas she pictured as an object lesson of a noble history. Sha said that he was a candidate that women could point their boys to and say, "Be like him"—a man white and pure and clear as sun glass, who could concentrate all the rays of light. Miss Williard is a young woman of slight figure, pale, and with rather a firm expression of mouth; but she spoke with vim and force, with a torrent of words, and made the best use of ten minutes. She roused the Convention to enthusiasm with her eulogium of St. John.

W. T. Eustis of Maine spoke carneatly for the nomination of Gideon T. Stewart of Ohlo, and spoke of the coming day when there would be a second emancipation proclamation, when the word would go forth, "No more liquor imported and none distilled."

Charles M. Nye spoke, on behalf of the Maryland delegation, for the nomination of Mo-Donald.

The Convention was to nominate leaders for Donald.

The itev. A. A. Miner of Boston said the duty of the Convention was to nominate leaders for a young party whose principles are the oldest in the world, a candidate who might be chosen or the Convention was to nominate leaders for a young party whose principles are the oldest in the world, a candidate who might be chosen to proside over a country large enough to give every inhabitant forty acres, with two or three to spare for a flower garden. In behalf of Massachusetts he favored the nomination of Gov. Bt. John. He predicted that if this nomination should be made the vote for it would be so large as to astonish the whole country.

Mrs. Clara Hoffman of Missouri, in behalf of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, spoke earnestly for St. John. She hit off happily the candidates of other parties by telling the Convention what St. John was not. She said he was not a plumed knight with borrowed plumes, nor one who advocated the education of the people by the use of blood money obtained by the sale of licences. Her speech aroused the Convention to renewed enthusiasm for St. John.

S. R. Ransom, on behalf of the New Jersey delegation, presented the name of Clinton B. Fisk. As to the charge that Gen. Fisk is a new convert, he said: Thank God the woods are full of them." He took occasion to reply to an attack that had been made upon Gen. Fisk as a Wall street operator. He said that the charge originated in a civil suit wherein the General was trying to get back some $90,000 he had loaned to two young men, who got out an order of arrest in his absence, and could not now be compelled to prosecute their suit.

Proc. Hopkins, on behalf of the New York delegation, advocated the nomination of Gov. St. John. He said that St. John had sacrificed his own interest as a Republican in the noble work of the Prohibition party. Because he could not get the Republican party to stop trying to carry a salcon on one shoulder and sunday school on the other, he had left the party and burned his bridges behind him.

Ohlo was called, and Gideon T. Stewart, the old hero of prohibition, took the platform, and said that the presentation of his heaver the flowers.

larly nominated. He requested the delegates to inflate their lungs and give a cheer that would almost raise the roof. The Convention did it with a will.

John P. St. John has been a prominent figure in Kausas for fifteen years. He was born in Indiana, and studied law under many difficulties. He began practice in Missouri, and after settling in Kansas became a leading Republican. He served in both branches of the Legislature, and two terms as Governor of the State. Later he became prominently identified with the Prohibition party. He endeavored in vain to make the Republicans put prohibition in their platforms, and falling to do that, cut loose from the party and devoted himself to the temperance cause. Ho is about 45 years old, and has an interesting family, He is personally a rathor sim, why man, and looks much like Gov. Pattison of Pennsylvania. He is a fluent forcible speaker, and has made hundreds of temperance speeches.

The reputations.

The Prohibtion Home Protection party, in National Convention assembled, neknowledge Almighty God as the rightful assembled, neknowledge Almighty God as the rightful sovereign of all men, from whom the just powers of Government are derived, and to whose laws human ensemblents should conform. these drinks, holding certificates claming the authority of the Government for the continuation of a business so destructive to the moral and material welfare of the people, together with the fact that they have turned a deaf ear to remonstrance and petition for the correction of this abuse of civil government, is conclusive that the Republican party is insensible to or impotent for the redress of those wrongs and should no longer be intrusted with the powers and responsibilities of government. That although this party, in its late National Convention, was slient on the inquor question, not so were its candidates, Measrs, Blaine and Logan. Within the year past Mr. Blaine has publicly recommended that the revenue derived from the ilquor traffic shall be distributed among the States, and Senator Logan has by bill proposed to devote these revenues to the support of schools. Thus both virtually recommend the perpetuation of the traffic, and that the State and its citizens shall become partners in the liquor crime.

The fact that the Democratic party has, in its national advice and control of a proper of the states in refusing remedial legislation and in Congress of refusing to permit the creation of a Board of Inquiry to investigate and report upon the effects of this traffic, proves that the Democratic party should not be intrusted with power and place, and that there can be no greater part to the nation than the existing

That while there are important reforms demanded for purity of administration and the welfare of the people, their importance sinks into insignificance when compared with the reform of the drink traffic which now annually wastes $50,000,000 of the wealth created by toll and thrift, and drags down thousands of families from comfort to poverty: which fills jails, pententiaries, insure asylums, hospitals, and institutions for dependancy; which destroys the health, paralyzes industry, and and drags down thousands of families from comfort to poverty: which fills jails, penitentiaries, insane asylums, hospitals, and institutions for dependancy, which destroys the health, paralyzes industry, and causes loss of life and property to thousands in the and, lowers intellectual and physical vigor, dutia the cunning hand of the artisan, is the chief cause of bank ruptcy, insulvency, and loss in the chief cause of bank ruptcy, insulvency, and loss in trade, and by its corruption power managers perpetuity of free institution power and troubling the manufacture and aske of intoxicating beverages in the District of Columbia, in the Territories of the United States, and in all places over which the Government has exclusive jurisdiction; that hereafter no State shall be admitted into the Union until its constitution shall expressly prohibit polygamy and the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages.

it is. The Convention then voted, under the operation of the previous question, on the substitute proposed by Miss Willard, which was lost. The motion of Dr. Miner to make the name the "Prohibition party" was then carried by an overwhelming vote.

The Convention then at 6:30 P. M., took a recess until 8 this evening.

The first hour and a half of the evening session was spent in an amusing effort on the part of the Finance Commitbee to raise a campaign fund. The plan adopted was the issue of certificates of stock in what is called the "pioneer battle fund of the National Prohibition party," the holder of each share pledging himself to pay $10 a year to the fund, the dividends to be payable in heaven. Mr. Christian of Chicago acted as an auctioneer broker, and by his amusing remarks, eagled the delegates from the various States to subscribe for from one to fifty shares each the whole number of shares taken aggregating about 400.

Dr. Minet of Massachusetts, from the Com-

After a discussion, in which several delegates took ground that the Convention about confine itself to the simple principle of prohibition, while others argued that the proposed plank would attract votes of the Greenbackers, the motion of Dr. Miner was adopted, and the finance plank of 1876 was substituted.

The Convention at 10 o'clock proceeded to the call of the roll of States for nominations to the Vice-Presidency.

Magee likewise declined to draw his check to the order of the Chairman. Both say that they will you the ticket, and make fair contributions to the local committee, but beyond that they will not go. They are taking a rest. Major Moorhead, who has hitherto been what is called an Independent, shows an inclination to side with Oliver and Magee this year.

Mr. Jones is not discouraged however. He confidently expects to raise more money than has ever been raised in Pittsburgh for political purposes. He will head the subscription himself with $100,000. Campbell Herron, who has not herefolore been active in politics, subscribes $10,000; Ed. Byers, who was a delegate from the Twenty-third district, puts down $10,000, and Calvin Weils, proprietor of the Philadelphia Press, and elector-at-large on the licket, adds $10,000. Those, men have never the risolore been liberal, and their generosity this year is caused by the impression that the Cameron crowd are inclined to sulk. Harry Oliver will spend the summer in Bedford. He has sent an invitation to Senator Cameron to meet him there. They will discuss the political easi stuation fully, and come to an understanding as to what is best for them to do.

Indiana Prehibittenists Divided.

Indiano Prohibitionists Divided. Indianapolis, July 24 .- The Indiana Prohibitionists are hopelessly divided on the question of nom-inating a State ticket, and as the result the party is holding two conventions here to-day. The section favor-ing the nomination of a State ticket with M. E. Shiel at the head assembled in English's Opera House, and effected a permanent organization by reelecting Ett F. Ritter of this city as Chairman. Mr. Ritter, on taking the chair, delivered a speech favoring the nomination of a State ticket. The faction opposed to the nomination of a State ticket, headed by Dr. Houser, E. B. Reynold, J. B. Connor, and others, is in session at the Grand J. B. Connor, and others, is in session at the Grand Opera House.

The Anti-State Ticket Convention asked for a conference, and committees of conference were appointed, but nothing was accomplished. The State Ticket Convention then nominated R. S. Dwigrins for Governor, E. C. Stier for Lieutenant-Governor, B. F. Carter for Necetary of State, Ell Miller for Anditor, A. J. Taylor for Treasurer, E. F. Hammond for Judge of the Supreme Court, and Ryland T. Brown for Superintendent of Public Instruction. The State Central Committee was instructed to name candidates for Attorney-General and Presidential electors.

Enrolling Against Blaine.

The Independent Republican Executive Committee met yesterday at 35 Nassau street. Carl Schurs agreed to translate Col. Codman's speech and George William Curtis's address at the Independent Conference into German, and they are to be circulated in thickly settled German districts. The finances of the commit toe were reported to be flourishing, and a meeting of the local Finance Committee was appointed for this after-

Becretary Green said that within ten days the committee would have ready three monster lists of Independents from various parts of the country, and added that they would have no trouble in raising money, even though they could not "assess."

The following blank form for a pledge was ordered to be printed and distributed:

public morals demand the defeat of James G. Blaine and the election of Grover Cleveland, I desire to enroll myself with other Republicans of independence who are cooperating with the committee appointed by the conference July 22."

The Red Men Win in a Rough Game. The Caughnawaga Indians, who on Wednesday defeated the New York Lacrosse Club's team, yesterday met a carefully selected twelve of the Independent Club on the Polo grounds. There was some complaint that the Indians were a little too rough on Wednesday, but yesterday the Independents saw all their roughness, and went their a great many points better. Some of the Indians looked as though they had been in a prize fight, and after one of the games Cross the Biver had to have a cross patch of sticking-plaster put over an ugiy out under the right ear. The red man remarked incidentally that his head was covered with lumps and gashes, too, and the Captain of the Indian team said he did not think this was exactly the way to play lacrosse. missioner of Taxes to abate taxes which had been imposed upon the personal property of the company for 1882, to the amount of $123,000. The company claims that the assessment upon which the tax is based was improperly made. It avers that the Commissioners, instead of deducting the value of its real estate from the actual market value of its capital stock, deducted the value of the real estate from the new value of the real estate from the new value of the apital stock, and then estimated the difference at the market value of the stock, thereby leaving a basis upon which the tax was placed. The company says that its pertace and openedually like tax was linguily imposed, and therefore the Commissioners should be compelled to remove it. Decision was reserved.

WHERE IS DR. LOCKWOOD? His Disappearance from Norwalk Starts No

NORWALK, July 24 .- Dr. William E. Lockwood, a physician, who has practised in this town for fifteen years, has disappeared. Vari-ous reasons are given for his departure. One widow of John Tryon, a watchman at the Nor-walk Iron Works. Shortly before Tryon's death he became heir to $50,000, and $16,000 of this was the widow's dower. It is asserted that Dr. Lockwood had induced the widow to become his surety for $5,000, and that about two months ago she made him executor of her estate. Twelve days ago Mrs. Tryon died unexpectedly, and search by her friends since the Doctor's departure falls to reveal the bonds and securiand search by her friends since the Doctor's departure fails to reveal the bonds and securities she once possessed. A rumor was circulated this morning that her body would be disinterred and examined.

It is reported that Dr. Lockwood's only son received yesterday by mail a lotter written by his father announcing his departure, and that he did not expect to return. It is believed here that Dr. Lockwood has gone to Europs.

About two years ago Dr. Lockwood purchased a seat in the Petroleum Exchange in New York. He speculated largely, and for a time was successful; but a turn in the market sunk his last dollar, and he borrowed from the Fairfield County Bank the sum of $10,000 on notes purporting to be drawn by his late wife's mother. Doubts have been expressed as to the character of the notes, and when a bank director was questioned concerning them he refused to answer. These notes have lain in the bank for more than a year, and have frequently been renewed but not materially reduced in amount.

Of late the physician's practice has fallen off somewhat, but it was formerly very large. He has cultivated the acquaintance of many women in and about Norwalk, and to such an extent as to cause remark. A short time ago a citizen of Westport forbid the doctor coming again to his house. From one family in this borough comes the statement that his intimacles there had been of such a character as to call forth one day last week from the husband the threat that if the doctor did not leave the State at once he would shoot him on sight. Taken altogether, it is an affair that causes much talk in town.

The Peckskillians are loud in their praise of the demeanor of the men about town, and not a man has been in the guardhouse. It will take back to New York a well-sarned reputation for hard work, good behavior, and eating powers that are simply phenomenal. The situation at the commissary department after dinner yesterday became alarming. The supply of provisions consumed had exceeded the wildest flight of the Commissary's imagination.

The ferry war rages with unabated fury. The steam ferry people are trying to drive the boatmen away by the strong arm of the law, and the boatmen are taking all the passengers by raising the cry of monopoly. The Sixty-ninthers patronize the boatmen to a man.

Immediately after parade last evening Inspector-General Briggs advanced to Col. Cavanagh with a brief speech and a $500 gold watch, both of which he presented to the agitated Colonci in the name of the officers and men of the Sixty-ninth.
